Benefits for Professionals

The interaction between the Professional and Non-professional is what distinguishes the Chaîne des Rôtisseurs from other organizations.

Personal and professional growth through association with experts in their field.

Provides a worldwide forum in which professional excellence is recognized.

Partnership in raising standards for service and food higher and higher.

Sharing creativity and innovation by pushing beyond what has been.

Priceless marketing opportunities for member establishments.

Opportunities for host venues to showcase their exceptional culinary and service skills.

Competitions for young professionals – Sommeliers and Chefs.

Pro Guide and Geolocation interactive map.

International Job Forum.

Visibility on both US and the International Website.

Visibility on all Social Networks.

The Professional Plaque

Upon induction, each professional member receives a plaque to be displayed within their establishment, serving as a proclamation of excellence in food and service.

Professional Challenge

Hosting a Chaîne des Rôtisseurs event offers the opportunity to showcase exceptional skills and creativity for an appreciative, knowledgeable audience.

Young Chef Rôtisseurs Competition

The national Chaîne des Rôtisseurs organization sponsors an annual young chefs competition with participants coming from the kitchens of member establishments.

Young Sommeliers Competition

Société Mondiale du Vin, the wine arm of the Society, sponsors an annual competition for young Chaîne-sponsored wine professionals.

The Chaîne des Rôtisseurs Foundation

Through its special tax-exempt foundation and in conjunction with the major culinary teaching institutions, the Confrérie provides significant help to students of the hospitality and culinary and viticultural arts.

Professional Ranks

In keeping with the traditions of the ancient guild of rôtisseurs, our society has established a series of distinctive titles and decorations.

Pastry Chef Competition

The Bailliage des États-Unis is searching for the best Pastry Chef in the United States. Unlike the Young Chefs Competition, there will be no age limit to enter.

International Professionals

A geolocation map is available on our international website to promote our professionals and their establishments.

The Chaîne Foundation

Confrérie de la Chaîne des Rôtisseurs

The Chaîne Foundation is a 501c3 non-profit charitable organization dedicated to promoting the values of La Chaîne des Rôtisseurs. The Foundation has an impressive history of financial stability, but has identified a growing need for support, especially in these difficult times. As the Foundation nimbly adapts to address this changing landscape, we are developing exciting strategies, and hope to build sustaining partnerships with our national membership and like-minded stake-holders. The important work of “paying it forward” through philanthropy, grants, and scholarships is more critical than ever. We are dedicated to supporting our future leaders in culinary, oenology, and hospitality. We invite you to join us.

L'Académie Brillat-Savarin

The Académie is composed of Members of the Society who are either involved in the preparation of foods or its production, food critics, educators, writers, and scientists, as well as connoisseurs (amateurs) dedicated to promoting the education and enjoyment of fine food.

Members receive a numbered certificate, registered Académie Hall of Fame medal, and an invitation to annual Brillat-Savarin events (open to Académie members only) to include Province Induction and National Induction.

THE PURPOSE OF L'ACADÉMIE:

- Enhance the understanding of foods, their preparation and effect on the senses.
- Organize and support the dissemination of related information, including educational seminars.
- Promote excellence among the Society's Professional culinary members.
- Recognize individual achievements in and support of the culinary arts.

Young Chefs & Young Sommeliers Competitions

Our goal is to encourage the cultural differences in food & wine presentation and preparation using a traditional approach and be a major player in the transmission of knowledge.

Young Chefs Competition

The Young Chefs Rôtisseurs Competition first competition was organized and first held in 1977 in Switzerland to support and promote future young chefs by giving them the opportunity to demonstrate their advanced skills. Competitions are held at provincial, national and international levels in countries around the world with a strong Chaîne community presence.

The United States competition began in 1990 and continues to grow every year and has been featured on the Food Network and CNN. In 2011, the winner of the U.S. Competition went on to win the International Young Chef Competition organized by the Confrérie de la Chaîne des Rôtisseurs.

Société Mondiale du Vin

For members wishing to promote and further their interest in the enjoyment, knowledge and understanding of fine wines and crafted beverages, the Société Mondiale du Vin was founded to provide the opportunity to grow and expand on this fascination within dinners and tastings. One of its primary goals is to provide help, encouragement and support for the young professionals who are to be the best sommeliers of the future.

The Young Sommeliers Competition

Sponsored by the Société Mondiale du Vin, this annual competition for young Chaîne-sponsored wine professionals provides participants with the opportunity to display their knowledge on wine, crafted beverages and wine service.

With blind tastings, table service and a written test as components of the competition, provincial winners go on to compete in a national finals competition where the winner then moves forward to compete in the international round, pitted against other national young sommelier winners from all over the world.

The United States National Young Sommelier of the Year in 2011 went on to win gold at the Young Sommeliers International Competition. That is the only time both competitions were won by the same country in the same year.
